1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-11 and 17-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schmitter et al, US Patent No. 5,288,778.

3. Schmitter et al discloses polymer compositions stabilized against damage caused by light, oxygen and heat by the incorporation of a hydroxyphenyltriazine therein. The hydroxyphenyltriazine directly corresponds to those of applicant's claims. Suitable polymers which may be stabilized include polyamides and polyesters and blends of these polymers with polyolefins. The compositions may include sterically hindered amines that may be considered hydroxyl amine ethers. All stabilizers are incorporated in amounts that directly overlap the amounts set forth in applicant's claims. The resulting compositions may be formed into articles and films and exhibit good fastness to weathering. The compositions are therefor suitable for agricultural films. Patentee is silent as to the transparent nature of the compositions, however in view of the intended objective to decrease yellowing, a transparent composition is probable and obvious. See col. 1, line 5 through col. 10, line 61 and claims 9 and 10.
